

Homework is a waste of time!

In my opinion homework is one the biggest wastes of time! Kids already learn enough at school, homework takes precious time away from family and friends. Students become cranky and exhausted because they can't relax because they are focused on work, work, work!

To begin with, children already learn a lot at school and too much homework can affect their eyesight and brain development. Students also deserve a time away from work and school! Have you seen the amount of work teachers give students?

Additionally, if you didn't already know homework takes precious family and friend time away! Homework can cause severe boredom in students and parents. Homework is the number one reason why students come to school tired and cranky!

It is clear, that all students deserve a break from homework! Too much homework can make students cranky and exhausted! Homework is the number one waste of students' time!!

In conclusion, all the evidence shows that homework is unnecessary for students! Homework is one of the most disliked activities and a reason, why students don't want to go to school! Kids are already smart enough and learning enormous amounts of information. Any more could begin to affect their brain and eye development.

Any intelligent person should know that homework is not linked to intelligence.
